New York, May 1857

Dr: We have your favor of 3d. We have not yet printed the Map.

indications can be made.

It is anxious to have the Hungarians ready for spring. It will be advantageous with this series, & spring is the time for it. We should be glad to have it involve as little selling as possible. We understand you to say that many of the costs be taken for the Hungarians.

Of course, the more the better. We will commence stereotyping as soon as you are ready. We hope you will not make it too large; it is very desirable to keep it within limits to enable us to retail it for 50 cents. Much of its success, as well as adaptibility, depends on its size & price. We thank you for your kindness in enclosing draft of encasing bill. It will be more convenient to remit it in a few weeks; this if you have any holding occasion for it sooner, please inform me & tell me to send. Very truly yours,

John Macrae
